The wonderfully-named ZOË-FASHION PLATE is a stylish soul singer who works in and around Houston, Texas. Over the last couple of years she's been the local lady to open Houston shows for visiting soul royalty ... people like Patti Labelle, Roy Ayers and Rashaan Patterson and enthusiastic reviewers have compared Zoe's sound and style to people like Sade and Erykah Badu; enigmatic, laid-back and soulful.

Young Ms Fashion Plate has just launched her first mini album... a sweet 5 track affair called 'Stylish Melodies'. The lead cut is a crisp, mid-tempo beater called 'I Got U'. It's certainly stylish and boasts a great melody but it's those sedate beats that could endear it to the modern soul fraternity.

The riff-laden tune (and indeed the whole EP) is available from all the usual download platforms and you can learn more @ www.zoefashionplate.com
